What a wallop! Good Lord! Could we get blasted with anything else? Jesus is really on a rampage. Over and over again He hits us with those actions that He has told us before come from within our hearts. So when looking at the situation what we really need to do is consider how our hearts come in to play? Could we be so self-righteous that we can't see ourselves acting in any of these ways? Then what was the Lord wasting His time on? Surely He knew the human heart. Why preach in such a way? In any case we must understand that we are always in need of change! We too need the Lord's forgiveness, mercy and love! And if He can give so freely to us, shouldn't we give of ourselves to one another? Think about it? We must ask ourselves whether we give to everybody, in charity even when we are not asked to give? Do we forgive? Do we pardon others for the way they act, for the way they judge, for when they fail to meet our standards? Then we must question ourselves whether we are acting as Christ would act, He who is the fullness of compassion, mercy and love? We are so quick to jump on others, to question others, to judge others. Are we then acting like Christ? We expect our children to do so, others to do so - what about us? This week we enter the season of Lent with the celebration of Ash Wednesday! This day asks us to call to mind our personal need for penance, forgiveness and mercy. Who are we if we see no need for change? It must be great to be perfect like that? Who are we if we are not daily seeking to be changed into the image and likeness of Christ?

DID YOU NOTICE the slate floor in the sanctuary? Two years ago the shine came up when cleaned but 35 yrs. of wax remained embedded in the slate. The Knights of Columbus purchased a more acidic cleaner, got some Clorox, rented scrubbers, found mops, buckets, and rags, got knee pads, rubber gloves and goggles and scrubbed away Saturday morning. While it's needed done for some time, it's just in time for Lent when the sanctuary's a little more bare. THANKS GUYS FOR A JOB WELL DONE!!!

God Bless You!
Rev. Kev
