WHO'S IN CHARGE?

One of my “priestly” pet peeves is listening to people speak about someone who has died and saying, “I guess it was her time” or “I guess it was his time?” As if God has a planned time for all of us to go? In such a case we have to think then what has happened to that God-given gift called “free will?” You know, where we choose our own destiny by our belief? Where there is no such thing as fate? If it were all planned, then that would mean that God wanted man to sin in the Garden of Eden by planning that he would eat of the tree of life? This just can't be! Looking at death though and thinking that it's God's will that it should happen in such ways that befall us at times is absurd! BUT, realizing that death is a part of life, that it's not an end, but a change and/or a new beginning is the way we should think! As far as that being planned, well of course it is as far as life taking its course, but not according to God's choosing? Unfortunately, sickness and disease take their toll and ruin life at times causing that “new beginning” to be shadowed in pain. But that is not God's plan, except that life continues on. Why all of this? Well, to answer the question “who's in charge” we must understand that we are, even in death, even in sickness, we are! But while being in charge we must also see our lives as being “inspired” by the goodness of God! And so we celebrate today the Feast of the Holy Trinity, that presence of God that is always with us! In the Father we are created anew each day, given a chance to start again with new thoughts and new ideas on how to better ourselves and the world which He created! Every day we are given the opportunity to follow the Son, to brighten our days and the lives of others through Our Savior who has redeemed us so that we in turn can help others, through our witness, on that road of redemption! Every day too, the Holy Spirit entices us to open our minds and our hearts, to listen and proclaim what has been given to us, in Scripture, in the Eucharist, in the Sacraments! Every day we are sanctified that we might be holy and that others might see and learn true holiness! We are in charge, but without their help our lives would be worthless, fruitless, meaningless! May we pray that the Holy Trinity then guide us always, that as we take control of our lives, we may do so with the power of God before us, beside us, and always to guide us!

CONGRATULATIONS TO THIS YEAR'S GRADUATES!!!

As we celebrate God's presence in our lives on this most special day in honor of the Holy Trinity, may you always be blessed in everything that you do by the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit!

God Bless You!
